PEOPLE ON THE MOVE: RHONDA GRICE

PENSACOLA, Fla. (July 24, 2007) – Rhonda Grice has joined the West Florida Regional Planning Council (WFRPC) as a regional transportation planner.

In her new role, Grice will assist in areas of public involvement, the Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) and the Efficient Transportation Decision Making Process (ETDM). Prior to joining the WFRPC, Grice taught social studies at Bellview Middle School.

Grice is a graduate from the University of Tennessee with a bachelor's degree in history.

For more information, call the WFRPC at (850) 332-7976.

The West Florida Regional Planning Council is a not-for-profit agency that provides professional planning, coordinating and advisory services to local governments, state and federal agencies and the public in order to preserve and enhance quality of life in Northwest Florida.
